GOOD WEATHER FOR SECOND DAY OF PUTNAM FAIR

BIGGER CROWD IS EXPECTED AT ROBE-ANN PARK THIS EVENING

Ideal weather prevailed here Tuesday morning for the second day of the 1951 Putnam County Fair at Robe-Ann Park.

The scenic called for 4-H safety exhibit judging, 4-H and open class swine judging, and opening of the Home Economics Show. A county-wide amateur contest was to be held tonight.

The curfew rang at midnight for the young 4-H Club exhibitors who are spending the week at the fair grounds. The Fair Board has employed Russell Coleman, of the Greencastle police department, to maintain order and act as night watchman from 10 p. m. until 6 a. m.

The boys were up early Tuesday morning and feeding their stock and getting them ready to show during the day.

Despite Monday morning's hard rain, a good crowd turned out for the opening night and conditions reported some business. With more favorable weather, the crowd should be even larger this evening with the fair now really well underway.

FINAL FUND EFFORT

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 7.—(UP)—This city will make a final effort today to raise nearly $16,000 to assure staging of the third annual International Dairy Exposition.

The show is scheduled to open Oct. 7 at the state fairgrounds here, but officials say it will be called off unless the money is raised.

General Manager Horace W. Walker said $28,000 of the $43,800 needed for the exposition has been pledged.

JAYWALKING ILLEGAL

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 7.—(UP)—The long arm of the law reached out at pedestrians here today, making it illegal for them to jaywalk.

The city council last night passed an ordinance enforcement to begin Aug. 25—making it unlawful for pedestrians to jaywalk, walk against the red traffic light, and disregard the "don't walk" signals.

Councilmen warned they might even get tougher. An amendment was to make pedestrians liable to fines of $2 for the first, $3 for the second and $5 for each additional violation in the calendar year.

Twp. Truck Made Limedale Run

The Greencastle township fire truck made a run to Limedale Monday afternoon but the firemen reported that due to vague instructions received by telephone they were unable to find any blaze.

Fortunately, the alarm was of a minor nature. The fire was confined to a coal oil stove in the home of Russell Payas, residing in the fourth house west of the Monon railroad crossing on the Limedale-Manhattan road.

The firemen first stopped at the Von Tress store and then drove to the cement plant. They finally located the origin of the alarm by telephoning the chief operator at the local exchange.

Public Enemy Is Shot To Death

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 7.—(UP)—Tony Brancato, recently listed as one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, and a pal, Tony Trombino, were shot to death in a gangland-style last night by a gunman they had trusted to sit behind them.

The two Kansas City hoodlums, suspected of the 1949 attempt on the life of gambler Mickey Cohen, were killed on a residential street a half block off Hollywood boulevard as they sat in a parked car.

Brancato in his own right "definitely and perpetually" led the field of those suspected of the ambush slaying of underworld Attorney Samuel Rummel, said police chief William Parker.

Police said the killer apparently was sitting in the rear seat of the car talking to Brancato and Trombino who were in the front seat.

Brancato, 36, was killed by a bullet through the back of the head. Trombino, 31, apparently had turned to speak to the slayer and was shot through the side of the face.

Three bullets smashed through the windshield of their 1948 Oldsmobile sedan, and another tore through the roof. Brancato's clothing was punctured by bullets in two places.

Residents rushed to their windows when they heard shots about 9 o'clock in time to see the killer dash from Brancato's car leap into another auto parked across the street and speed away.

Neighbors said they had seen the men in the area several times since last Friday.

Detectives theorized that Brancato and Trombino had arranged a rendezvous with the killer and that he murdered them during an argument in the parked car.

Neither of the hoodlums carried a gun.

PAINTER GETS INTO TROUBLE AT BRAZIL

A 23-year-old Greencastle painter, George McIndoo, was scheduled to appear Monday evening before Justice of the Peace Robert Kidd to answer charges of public intoxication and operating a vehicle under the influence.

McIndoo was arrested in his pretty red convertible coupe Saturday night on West National Ave., by Officers Pickett and Harris.

After a trip to police headquarters, McIndoo's car was impounded pending his hearing—Brazil Times.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENT

City police reported Tuesday that a minor traffic accident occurred on the west drive at Robe-Ann Park Monday during the hard rain shortly before the noon hour.

Police said that Richard Hagler, 17, of Reelsville Route 1, was parked on the west side of the one-way street headed north. He started to pull out and due to the rain did not see a taxicab, driven by Emmett Scott, also going north. The autos side-swiped resulting in about $45 damage.

Fast Train Hits Auto; Derailed

MALVERN, Ark., Aug. 7.—(UP)—The Missouri-Pacific's Crack Texas Eagle rumbled into an unoccupied automobile at a crossing here early today, jumped the tracks and seriously injured two crewmen.

State police said one unit of the Diesel locomotive overturned and five passenger coaches were derailed but remained upright. Three passengers were treated for minor injuries at Malvern hospital and dismissed.

The west bound passenger train smashed a 1941 Pontiac which was stalled on the tracks two blocks from the Malvern depot.

State police said the owner of the car, O. H. Nolan, 31, of Ink, Ark., was being held for investigation.

The collision happened about 1:45 A. M. CST as the Texas Eagle was highballing on its run from Little Rock, Ark., to Dallas. Tex. Malvern is about 45 miles southwest of Little Rock.

State police said the engineer and the fireman were taken to Malvern hospital with serious injuries. Their last names were given as Cox and Fisher. First names were not immediately learned.

Several ambulances from Little Rock sped to the scene.

DEBATE RAGES IN SENATE ON CADET ISSUE

ALABAMA SOLON FAVORS ABOLISHING ANNAPOLIS, WEST POINT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(UP)—Sen. John J. Sparkman, D., Ala., said today that Congress should "abolish" West Point and Annapolis.

He made the statement amid furious debate on Capitol Hill regarding dismissal of 90 West Point cadets who violated the academy's 150-year-old honor code by cheating on exams. A Senate subcommittee has ordered a "preliminary" investigation of the mass firing.

Some senators advocated outlawing football at West Point and Annapolis. Sparkman went all the way.

"We should abolish both academies," he told reporters. He said the armed services should draw all officers from college reserve officers training programs.

A telegram sent to President Truman last night by the parents of the 90 cadets was expected to be given to Mr. Truman today. White House observers, noting that Mr. Truman—an artillery captain in World War I—always has tried to conduct himself as a "good soldier," predicted that he would take no action in the case without consulting military officials.

The parents asked the President to restore the cadets to duty and let them be graduated from West Point and be commissioned as officers.

Mr. Truman, who wanted to attend the academy but was disqualified by poor eyesight, has taken no action so far in the scandal. A White House spokesman said last Friday when the dismissals were announced that Mr. Truman was "naturally very much concerned," and had known in advance and approved of the army's action.

Sparkman said the two military training schools can not train more than one out of every five officers needed by the armed services. The rest come from college ROTC units, he said.

"We should draw all our officers from the ROTC programs," Sparkman said. He added that closing West Point and Annapolis would destroy any vestige of "cliques" in the Army and Navy.

Sparkman said that present facilities at West Point and Annapolis could be used for "special graduate studies, something like the war colleges." He suggested that ROTC graduates could be given a one-year training course at the academies.

Chairman Clyde R. Hoey, D., N. C., of the Senate's permanent investigating committee said he had ordered his staff to "get the preliminary facts" on the cadet dismissals. He said this information would be needed if the Senate Armed Services committee ordered a "full scale" investigation.

Chairman Carl Vinson, D., Ga., turned down suggestions that the House Armed Services committee investigate the scandal. He said he would not ask his group to conduct an inquiry because "it is a matter for the West Point authorities and the Army."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—(INS)—The superintendent at West Point today ordered rehearing for all cadets suspected of cheating on examinations and announced that those who have admitted violating the honor code will be given a chance to resign.

MP's Are Trebled In Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 7.—(UP)—Soldiers escaped a curfew here today proposed last week by Police Chief Jack O'Neal to protect them from "these girls who won't stay off the streets." O'Neal asked officials of two nearby army camps, Fort Benjamin Harrison and Camp Atterbury, to limit hours of passes "so the GIs won't be wandering around the streets getting into trouble." He said they had nowhere to go after 1 a. m. and suggested "they head back to camp."

Military police came to the rescue. Col. Harold A. Doherty, chief of the Indiana Military District, said he had arranged for the military police force to be trebled to "watch out" for the soldiers.

"I'm not blaming the soldiers. They have been very well behaved," the police chief said in asking the curfew. "The big trouble is with those girls who won't stay home at night."

GEN. RIDGWAY GETS 'TOUGH' WITH ENEMY

UN COMMANDER MAKES OWN TERMS FOR FURTHER TALKS

TOKYO, Aug. 7.—(UP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway refused today to resume cease-fire talks until the Communists give an iron clad guarantee to keep their armed troops out of the Kaesong conference area.

The supreme United Nations commander sent his toughest-talking message yet to the Communist commanders in reply to their request for "immediate" resumption of the deadlocked conference.

Ridgway said he doubted the Communist explanation that mortar and machine-gun squads were inside the supposedly neutral zone Saturday by accident. He in effect rejected Red orders against a repetition as insufficient.

"It must be clearly understood that my acceptance of the armistice talks is conditional on complete compliance with your guarantee of neutralization of the Kaesong area," Ridgway said.

"Any further failure in this regard will be interpreted as a deliberate move on your part to terminate the armistice negotiations."

"I await your acceptance of this condition."

Ridgway bluntly told Gen. Kim Il Sung, North Korean Premier and Supreme Commander, and Gen. Peng Teh-Huai, Chinese commander in Korea, that Saturday's incident was neither "minor, accidental (nor) trivial," as they had contended.

The message threw responsibility for continuance of the cease-fire talks squarely back to the Communists. Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy and the three other American members of the UN negotiating team remained in Tokyo, apparently pending a Communist reply.

Ridgway's message was broadcast to the Communists shortly before 1:30 P. M. (11:30 P. M. Monday EDT). The Reds customarily do not reply for at least 24 hours to such messages.

That means that the armistice talks probably cannot be resumed in Kaesong before Thursday at the earliest. Ridgway broke off the talks Sunday after the UN delegation complained that a company of armed Communist soldiers marched past within 100 yards of the conference house Saturday during the 19th truce meeting.

It was the second time that the truce conference had been interrupted by the presence of armed enemy troops in Kaesong. The original allied complaint resulted in a Communist guarantee July 14 that all armed troops would be kept out of a half-mile radius of the conference site and only those carrying out military police duties would be allowed within five miles.

Generals Kim and Peng told Ridgway in their message Monday that they "have again ordered the guards of the Kaesong neutral area to adhere strictly to the agreement of July 14th and to assure that such a violation... will not occur again."

Looking at Life

ERICH BRANDEIS

Wonder how many of you saw the story of the Greek displaced persons in your newspaper. A shipload of them went over to the Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor, each kissing the feet of the statue, each saying a silent prayer of thanks for having reached these shores, to start a new life of freedom and of opportunity.

How many of you ever read the inscription on that statue?

I have printed it before, but I shall repeat it here:

"Give me your tired, your poor, Your huddled masses, yearning to breathe free,

The wretched refuse of your teeming shore;

Send these, the homeless, tempest-tossed to me;

I lift my lamp beside the golden door."

Perhaps those Greek immigrants did not know the meaning of these words.

But they felt them in their souls.

How I wish, at times, that we, the people of the United States, could more fully appreciate the blessings of this country and more deeply share the feelings of the immigrants.

I myself often forget our privileges and the meaning of the word FREEDOM.

I join in the chorus of those who kick and complain about taxes and high prices and graft in government—forgetting that the very act of kicking and complaining is a privilege no other country grants its citizens.

Our newspaper, in which I saw the story about the Greek immigrants, carried a picture of the event.

In an inset there was an old woman, with shawl and gnarled hands, chewing away on a frankfurter sandwich.

My wife looked at the picture, and at the caption underneath. "Good God!" she exclaimed, "that woman is younger than I am!"

Not to offend my wife, I shall not give the woman's age. Suffice it to say that she was not old at all—but what a difference between my wife and her!

I was thinking of the Greek immigrants kissing the Statue of Liberty as I read an advertisement of the Republic Steel Company which appeared in Editor and Publisher, the trade paper of journalism.

"But nobody beat me up!" the ad went on to say. "Now, you might say, what's so unusual about me NOT getting beat up for speaking out against the local government?"

"That's just my point. . . it ISN'T unusual! Not in this country. Here we ALL have free speech. It's part of our Constitution, even if we hardly think about it twice.

"But just think of folks in other countries who'd give their right eye to be American citizens and talk out at town meetings. And NOT get slugged.

"Ever stop to think that while all these people are trying to get INTO America, nobody here is trying to get OUT? That's because we like it here. No, not just because we've got autos and phones and bathtubs and all that."

"The real reason is. . . we've got FREEDOM! Seven days a week! We're free to follow our own religious. . . free to choose our own jobs in any industry we like. We can vote as we please. . . or NOT vote if we prefer. Though I personally think anyone who doesn't is a 14-carat dope."

What are YOU doing with your FREEDOM?

MARCH OF EVENTS

Nationwide Rounding Up Of Top Reds Continues

Crackdown on Communists To Bring More Arrests

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—There is going to be no letup in the FBI drive to round up Communist party leaders of all echelons throughout the nation, and more arrests can be expected in the next few weeks.

Justice department officials believe they have skimmed off the cream of the party's leadership in raids that so far have netted at least 44 top Reds. The search is still on for the top indicted or officially accused Communists who are still at large.

However, many other important Communist functionaries are still free and the FBI is convinced they also must be rounded up before any effective headway can be made in smashing the party in the United States.

The crackdown so far has concentrated on the big cities of New York, Pittsburgh, San Francisco and Los Angeles. However, arrests are expected in the near future in other large cities and in some smaller but important points where the party is known to be functioning.

Washington] PASS THE FINGER BOWL, PAPPY—Extension Service workers in at least one state are off on a new tack. They're trying to bring the benefits of higher etiquette to the farm.

A "news" release recently distributed by the Extension information service in this particular state reaches down to such rudimentary facts as to which foods may be eaten without benefit of flat silver—if other words, with the fingers.

The writer concedes that corn-on-the-cob may be grasped with both hands (some experts say only one), but there is a strong precaution against "nibbling."

In fact, the release stressed the point that partaking of all food (eating, that is) should be accomplished with a minimum of chopping, crunching, smacking and slurping.

Extension Service has long rendered valuable aid to housewives—both urban and rural—in matters of good home management, food preservation and the like. But this is the first attack on the subject of table manners.

Members of Congress who contend that the information services of federal agencies are overstuffed undoubtedly will seize on the release as a powerful argument to bolster their position.

THE REAL TRAP—Leaders of the Army, Navy and Air Force have never been so vigorously unanimous as they are in contending that an armistice in Korea must not be permitted to interfere with the big military program.

It is impossible to talk to any high official on to any of their diligent spokesmen without touching this subject. Newspapers and radio representatives have been beseeched to do all they can to prevent a let-down in the military buildup.

The position of the military leaders is that the "real trap" laid for the American people by Soviet Russia is not in Korea but at home.

If the expansion program is dropped, uncounted billions must either be written off as waste or chalked up to the cost of the Korean war.

REJUVENATION—The Census Bureau once was viewed as a dull and stodgy place where employees manning a vast battery of computing machines compiled facts and figures with little meaning to the man in the street.

Now it's apparent Census has hired somebody with a flare for digging up novel and entertaining stories woven around otherwise drab statistics.

One of the latest offerings concerns the probable reaction of Capt. John Smith if he were alive today to see farming activities in the area where he founded Jamestown in 1607. The intimation is that Smith as well as his cow—if he had a cow—would be inclined to take to the woods at sight of a milking machine.

The writer also speculated on the explosive reaction on receiving a bill from the local electric company for approximately seven dollars—the present monthly average for the area.

'Range Country' Begins East of the Hudson

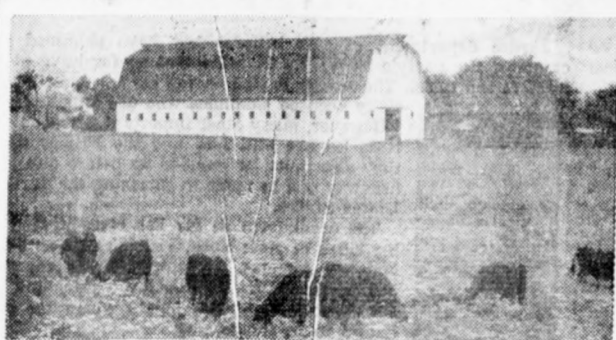

Dutchess County, N. Y., best known as the home of the late President Roosevelt, also is the home of the nation's finest Aberdeen-Angus cattle.

Range country begins within commuting distance of the teeming metropolis of New York—not out on the Lone Prairie—where hundreds of highly pedigreed black Angus roam the grass-carpeted hills.

Fuerst Stock Farm, at Pine Plains, is one of the principal breeding establishments upholding the reputation of Dutchess as a nursery for top seed stock. In the short space of 15 years, Myron Fuerst and his wife, Agnes, have developed a herd recognized for its superior qualities by other leading breeders in the United States, Canada and even South America.

Sprawling over 500 acres of rolling landscape, the Fuerst Farm is the setting for an annual sale of breeding stock which this year attracted some 500 breeders from 22 states and Canada. Fuerst and neighboring Bethel Farm sold 66 animals with receipts totaling $149,525. Top price was $11,100 paid for a fine yearling bull, Bethel Bandolier 15th.

The huge sale pavilion stands apart from the other farm buildings and is on a high plateau which provides a sweeping view of the picturesque countryside. Painted white, the long, graceful

Other main buildings such as the brood barn and winter shelter for breeding stock also have asphalt shingle roofs to keep the valuable animals warm and dry and to provide fire safety, all-important on farms which generally are far removed from organized fire protection.

Homes in U.S. Found Better By British

After six weeks of studying home building in the United States, 17 leading British architects and contractors decided that American houses are superior to those in Great Britain principally because of central heating and wood framed sidewalls, which are so common in America that most householders take them for granted.

Robert Owen Lloyd, British builder and leader of the group said, "We were intrigued with the design and general construction of American homes. Most of the homes we saw have framed wall and basements. This is almost unknown in Britain. We were also glad to see that every home is provided with its own heating plant. This we consider essential for maximum comfort."

Solid brick sidewalls, without framing, are used in the vast majority of British homes. Mr. Lloyd said. He explained that "framing adds to rapid construction and offers easy fixing for interior finishes and insulation."

Homes in England usually are heated by a system of open fire places which the British builder said, "is wasteful of fuel and creates extra work for the house wife." He added that he would like to see central heating plant installed in every British home. Referring to framed walls and heating plants, Mr. Lloyd emphasized that "these two important items, together with the asphalt shingle roof covering, will excite our minds for many days." He explained that most roofs in England are slate or tile and said he was impressed with the long life and ease of application of asphalt shingles and with the variety of solid and blended colors available.

He also pointed out that British builders do not provide "anything like the equipment we found in American homes, primarily because some of the equipment is too expensive in Britain."

Members of the British building team were surprised to find that all external doors and windows, even in low-cost homes are fitted with weatherstripping which reduces heat loss, Mr. Lloyd said.

The British group came to the United States under sponsorship of the Economic Cooperation Administration and the Anglo-American Council.

Protect Crops Stored on Farm

Farmers should make sure that their granary space will be ample for storage of this year's expected bumper harvest and that adequate protection is provided against leakage, weather, rodents, insects and other hazards.

Whether constructing a new storage building or reconditioning one now in service, a new asphalt roof will provide protection from weather damage and long, economical life. With a wide variety of asphalt roofing available for use on barns and other farm service buildings, it is easy to select a suitable type for any structure. Nineteen-inch selvage asphalt shingle or a standard strip shingle may be used on barns and other permanent buildings if the building stands in a high exposed location, cementing down the tabs of the asphalt strip shingles with quick-setting asphalt cement is recommended. Asphalt roll roofing may be used on low, small temporary structures.

The foundation, walls and floor must be of sound construction with the floor far enough above the ground to prevent flood damage in heavy rains. Doors and hatches must be tight-fitting, and there should be no loose knots split boards or open joints which could cause loss of grain.

Color Gives 'Eye Appeal' to Homes

Careful planning, good architecture and superior construction—what is asked of a house? Just one thing—eye appeal, in which color is the dominant factor. Many builders now make color planning an integral part of their operations.

In large developments where a number of houses are of similar architectural design.

Color-consciousness has created a new vocation—that of the color stylist and consultant. A leader in this new field is Beatrice West who color-styled 60,000 homes in 20 states for more than 160 builders in the last three years. Miss West, who color-styled fabulous Levittown on Long Island, says, "color, and particularly the roof colors, provides the most diversified and economical way to individualize a single house, or a group of houses, or to integrate an entire community of houses."

Flower Homes, at Wantagh, Long Island, clearly demonstrate the value of color styling. The builder, Adolphus Flowers, is convinced that the services of a competent color consultant are as essential as those of a reputable architectural concern and the use of good materials.

"I think color is one of the most exciting and satisfying features of Flower Homes," he said of the work done by another color stylist, Barbara Bernie. "And when I say this, I am merely echoing the opinions of the people who go through our homes."

Miss Bernie points out that her objective is to have the eye flow smoothly from the main point of interest—perhaps the doorway or picture window—on and around the sidewalls to the rear of the house.

"We think the roof—the largest unbroken area of a house and generally highly visible—should blend with the colors on the sidewalls, and should be treated in neutral tones," explained Miss

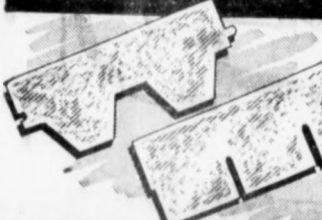

Bernie. "That's why we specify asphalt shingles in a blend." Three blends in asphalt shingles were selected for Flower Homes—gray, brown and slate.

Attractive features of Flower Homes include abundant storage space in the L-shaped kitchen-dinette. Base and wall cabinets of hardwood veneer have an attractive, durable finish maintained by plus an occasional dust cloth. Hardwood veneer makes house clean painted surfaces. The color various rooms and ings.

Electric Range helps the Robert Youngs stay young!

"Feed him well" is one of woman's oldest wiles," says Mrs. Robert Young, "but it always works—and it's a lot easier with the help of a new Electric Range and all its modern improvements. Now, instead of your standing over a stove, the range does the watching for you. You have more time to spend with your family."

A modern Electric Range takes the hard work out of cooking and baking. It's cool, fast cooking—and thrifty, too! The oven is insulated on all six sides, so heat is applied where needed, not wasted into the kitchen. See the modern Electric Range for yourself—at your dealer's—today!

Robert Young's Recipe

HAM-YAM CASSEROLE

1/2 cup diced green pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can condensed mushroom soup
3/4 cup milk
1 tablespoon grated onion
2 cups well seasoned mashed yams
Cook green pepper in butter or margarine about 3 minutes. Combine soup and milk mixture; stir over low heat until thickened. Add green pepper and ham. Turn into casserole; top with fluffy ring of mashed yams. Bake in moderate oven, 350° F., 30 minutes or until heated through and lightly browned. Yield: 6 servings.

See The "RANGE OF STARS" at Your Dealers!

Excessive range (and electric water heater) installation costs have been eliminated! In single-family residences, for instance, installation cost of an electric range circuit cannot now exceed $15 in presently wired homes... when installation arrangements are made through Public Service Company, either by your range dealer or by yourself. Save money—be sure Public Service Company is notified before installation arrangements are made and the Company will pay the difference!

"THERE'S MY SIGNATURE, but I'm not proud of it," says President Truman in signing (above) the compromise defense production controls bill in the White House. The bill, said the president, "will do great harm to our prices and wage controls." (International Soundphoto)
